The American Council for Construction Education (ACCE) is a 501(c)(3) private non-profit corporation. The mission of ACCE is to be a leading global advocate of quality construction education; and to promote, support, and accredit quality construction education programs. The primary goal is promotion and continued improvement of postsecondary construction education; specifically, ACCE accredits construction education programs in colleges and universities that request its evaluation and meet its standards and criteria.

ACCE is recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA) as the accrediting agency for 4-year baccalaureate degree, two-year associate degree, and master degree programs in construction, construction science, construction management, and construction technology. The Council offers Recognition of Continuing Education courses for Non-Degree Programs.

Organized in 1974 by the American Institute of Constructors, the constructor's professional organization, and the Associated Schools of Construction, ACCE enjoys the support of the principal building and contracting national associations and academic institutions seeking to satisfy the needs for well educated entrants into the construction profession.

By working together under the aegis of ACCE, persons representative of the total construction community and the public at large, construction educators and constructors, establish and maintain standards and criteria for accreditation, provide guidance to those seeking to achieve accredited status, and carry out the accreditation and reaccreditation processes. In doing so, ACCE serves the interests of potential students by helping them identify institutions and programs that offer quality education in the field, and serves the interests of the industry by enabling employers to identify persons who, by reason of their education and training, have the potential for making lasting contributions to the industry and their profession. ACCE also serves the interests of owners/users of constructed facilities and the public at large by raising the professional caliber of constructors and thus the quality of the construction for which they assume responsibility.

ACCE has developed reciprocal agreements with the National Board for Construction Management Accreditation (NBCMA) of the People's Republic of China, the Canadian Technology Accreditation Board (CTAB), and The Chartered Institute of Builders (CIOB) in the United Kingdom. The agreements recognize university degree programs accredited by NBCMA, CTAB, and CIOB as equivalent to Baccalaureate Degree Programs or Associate Degree Programs accredited by ACCE and the same equivalency for NBCMA, CTAB, and CIOB accredited Degree Programs.

These agreements are the culmination of a long period of evaluation by all parties embracing academic standards' comparability, exchange of procedural information and reciprocal observation of accreditation visits.

ACCREDITATION CANDIDATES

There are nine baccalaureate degree and six associate degree candidate programs. The institutions where these programs are offered have all indicated their desire to work toward ACCE accreditation. However, these programs, although in various stages of the accreditation process, have not yet been evaluated for compliance with ACCE's standards and criteria. Shown are the parent institution, the construction program, and the responsible faculty

Recognition & Memberships

Non Degree Recognition

In response to the concept of quality education in construction, ACCE has created a recognition program For non degree, career related education programs from providers and programs. This effort to recognize the providers and programs which have a quality process and content is aimed at providing education other than skills training. Standards and procedures by which these providers and programs are evaluated for recognition are found on the ACCE web site at www.acce-hq.org under "About ACCE."
